

2009 NATIONAL PREP

May 23 - May 24, 2009

Kentucky Basketball Academy
273 Ruccio Way
Lexington, KY 40503
(859) 219-9272

Welcome to the Bluegrass State and one of the premier annual tournaments in the country! You will be amazed at the skill level of these young players. You will watch in shock as these coaches exhibit a level of competence and competitiveness that will cause you to question the meager amount you paid for admission. The action was so great last year one coach called it, "the most intense two days of high level youth basketball" he had ever been a part of. The fast paced action and the furious nature combined with precision, accuracy and skill of these kids will cause you to question their ages. All the while you will be compelled to circle their name in this brochure to remind you to check on them in the future. This is basketball intravenously, it goes directly into your bloodstream! They've come here to prepare for the National Tournament and you will be the benefactor of their toil. Sit back, relax, and enjoy the show!

From Indianapolis, Indiana, Hoopmatics is new to the AAU scene but ready to make an impact in year one! They finished 5th in the tough Indiana state tournament and have received a bid to nationals in Memphis by placing 3rd in the Maysville, KY Super Regional. Their treacherous AAU schedule has included games against Indy Ice, Indy Blaze, Future Players, FIST, Team 317, Indiana Elite, MBA Ohio Elite and Speice Indy Heat with big wins against the latter two and competitive games with most. With post threat Tyler Scott in the middle, along with bruising forwards Andy Kroehler and Trey Caldwell, Hoopmatics is ready to mix it up inside. Add in cat-quick penetrators Kortland Townsend and Shimar Davis to go along with sharpshooters Desmond Balantine, Grant Leach and Alec Bersch with banger Jacob Wunder, look out! Hoopmatics is aiming for the top!

Over the last four years, Dayton Heat and Friars Blue Storm have solidified themselves as two of the better youth programs in the Dayton and Cincinnati areas. This marks the first year of this teams existence as one group. Coach Hoskins and Coach Cook have brought their core kids from the last several years together to make one solid team. They have achieved runner-up status in the "Real Deal on the Hill" and Buckeye Prep tournaments so far this season. The team prides itself on being a defensive-minded ball club. Will Green has established himself as one of the better defensive stoppers in Ohio. Juan Ford and Zachary McCormick are very versatile, well-rounded players with great upside to their games. Ryan Frey and Austin Taylor can both shoot the rock from deep. Devin Pike brings mental and physical toughness to the squad. This new team is poised and ready to make things happen!

#23 - Kendall Rollins
#24 - Daeshon Francis

Fresh off their 1st place finish in the Indiana State Championship .....Indy Ice is poised and ready to make some noise this year! Ice has a reputation for tenacious defense and competitive play! This group of kids have played together or against each other since 2nd grade. The love they have for each other and for the game is incomparable. At the end of the day, they play....they win...they learn. They play...they lose...they learn.

They may not be where they want to be yet, but when they get there, it'll be right on time! I thought I told you that ICE won't stop...thought I told you that ICE won't stop! ICE DDD!
